

September 2015

Greetings from Big Sky Montana!

The past month of adjusting back to life on this side of the ocean has been full. It seems like we have been on the go, since arriving back in Montana on August 5. As always, it is great to be reunited with family and friends as well as become acquainted with new faces and names. We were blessed to speak at both our supporting churches in Montana in August.

With the summer heat coming early this year in Montana, we immediately disembarked the train from Seattle just in time to make dinner and deliver it to the field where the crew was harvesting wheat. We anticipated helping much more than we did nonetheless we were only able to catch the last week of harvest with Emily's family. Our harvest plans changed so instead of spending most of August in the field, we were able to head to the mountains for some camping. We enjoyed camping and hiking in Glacier National Park and another time along the Rocky Mountain front.

We had the pleasure to share what God is doing in our ministry with PBT in PNG with two supporting churches in Montana. It was a great blessing to be encouraged and loved as we shared our hearts and prayers. The Spirit has impressed on our hearts to share with the church how to pray with us for the harvest fields in PNG. We truly feel we are the hands and feet of the local church serving in PNG and we are covered with His out numbering mercies, grace, and prayers.

Though we are on this side of the ocean, our hearts and minds are still in PNG. Since we have been back we have received news that our dear friend and mama, Dulcy, is still continuing to have problems with her mouth cancer. The good news is that they were able to have a biopsy done and find out particulars of how to treat the cancer. Our understanding is that she has gone to a hospital in Lae, Papua New Guinea to seek treatment. Please continue to pray for healing for Dulcy and Steven as he cares for her. The other news from PNG is that they are suffering from a horrible drought, which is hard for our minds to fathom. Pray with us for rain and for provisions for those who are so dependent on the ground and garden for their survival.

In September we will wrap up our time in Montana with Emily's family and make a quick two week trip to Alaska to visit a church and Tyler's relatives before starting our road trip to visit many of our supporters and family that is stretched across America. Pray for safe travels and the many miles of sky and road we are preparing to cross.

Pray for us as we continue to adjust to the different pace of life here and that we will be diligent in pursuing Him in the midst of transition and travel. Pray for spiritual and physical protection Mborena Kam recording team and their families as they work this month. Pray for our physical, mental and spiritual health. Pray for safety and protection of Julie, who is house sitting for us while we are away.

Together in Christ,

Tyler and Emily Hewitt
